25X1A DATE OF INFO. [REDACTED]

An airfield with RR spur track was located south of YEDROVO (33°37'E/57°55'N), near the village of VYPOLZOVO, west of the road. It was surrounded by woods on all sides except on the north. A concrete runway, three hangars (behind these an underground fuel dump), and three five-story solid buildings were available at the field. The number of twin-engine bombers permanently stationed at the field from July to September 1948 was far in excess of one hundred. Intensive flight training [REDACTED] during good weather.
